

Elwood Oversized Catchall Toddler Bib

October 26, 2008

I came up with this idea because my granddaughter was learning to eat with utensils and we all know it seems more food goes into their laps than into their mouth. LOL I also believed that it needed to be oversized for the spills down the sides also. The catchall will hopefully save the pants. For smaller sized go down hook size. Here is another view to see the catchall/mouth. Remember you can make it anyway you want, change colors, make bigger, smaller, a bigger catchall by adding more rows.

Also, double check the rows because this hasn't been tested and I had some help by the way of a 2 yr old and my counting may be off. LOL If you find a problem please let me know.
